Discussion Highlights:

1. Surface Water Project and Water Conservation on Campus

- a. UC Davis is participating in the Davis-Woodland Surface Water Project
 - i. Water from the Sacramento River will be diverted and sent down to UC Davis' water plant.
 1. To address an aging infrastructure
 2. To maintain the quality of water
 3. To meet a long-term demand and establish a reliable source.
 4. To prevent supply management issues in the future.
 5. There is an opportunity to partner with the City of Davis and the City of Woodland to share the cost of the project.
 - ii. Water directly from this new project is scheduled to roll out to water taps June 2016.
- b. Long-term water conservation efforts
 - i. We have continued to decrease the water consumption per person on campus, despite increased population.
 - ii. The campus is developing a Drought Response Plan
 1. A Water Action Committee has been established and meets weekly.
 2. They are reviewing current practices and developing new measures to reduce consumption, as well as developing a communication plan to share information with the community.
 - a. Suggestion: Get buy-in from students who want to work on water conservation projects and can help implement the plans.

2. Student Campus Climate Advisory Committee

- a. The Student Campus Climate Advisory Committee was established to bring student leaders together with campus leadership to proactively discuss student issues and debrief student related events.
- b. The council consists of 20 students and meets monthly.
 - i. It is student organized, student facilitated and held in a student ran space.
- c. There is currently a Grad Student committee being developed as well.
